CHILD DEVELOPMENT
Early Intervention Services

Empowering families and dramatically improving outcomes for children.

From infancy to age three, a child's brain is at a critical time of growth and development.

Early Intervention services have a positive effect on the trajectory of a child's life and on the family.

An Overview of the Early Intervention Process (Easy as 1, 2, 3)

STEP 1

REFERRING A CHILD

Referrals for Early Intervention services can be made by anyone who has concerns about the development of a child. Parents, physicians, childcare providers, and community partners can refer a child for our services.

STEP 2

EVALUATION

An evaluation of the child takes place at the child's home, at childcare, or at one of our locations. The goal of the evaluation is to meet with the parents, caregivers, and child with the appropriate specialists to determine eligibility, and if eligible, to develop an Individualized Family Service Plan based on the needs of the child.

STEP 3

THERAPEUTIC SERVICES

Services are provided by a multidisciplinary team of specialists to help the child acquire the skills they need to make gains in their development and reach their full potential.

Our therapeutic interventions are designed to naturally integrate into a family's daily routines and are respectful of each family's culture and learning style.
